Writing Women Back into History...

The history of women often seems to be written with invisible ink. Even when recognized in their own times, women are often not included in the history books.

The St. Mary’s University Women’s History Month planning committee hopes that the events sponsored on our campus will shed light on the many contributions of women in art, history, academia, sports, and politics in our community and internationally. May their work not go unnoticed.

“Never doubt that a group of thoughtful, committed citizens can change the world. Indeed, it is the only thing that ever has.”

-Margaret Mead
1901-1978
